

resumate
CONNECT WITH CANDIDATES

● strategies

If you're like most recruiters, you spend an average of 22 hours a week searching online for candidate resumes. That's precious time you could be spending on interviews, industry research, and networking. The dream: a single platform for all of your talent sourcing, searching and resume database management combined with an automatic, branded eMarketing campaign. The reality: Resumate and TalentFilterSM. By consolidating your recruiting efforts with a powerful new search technology, TalentFilter brings new efficiencies that yield a better ROI. This SaaS (Software-as-a-Service) web-based solution for screening candidates leverages a single proprietary "power browser" to integrate results from your paid subscription(s), thousands of free resume databases, and your organization's Talent Acquisition System into a single location. Resumate takes it to the next level by automatically sending a targeted eCard to the top 20% of sourced resumes.

● communications

One search? One location? One technology? Automatic CRM campaign? Too good to be true? Believe it. TalentFilter's easy-to-use search technology offers automatic advice for search strings based on a job description, then sweeps all your job board subscriptions, matches, ranks results, and through Resumate, can bulk contact the best matches. It can even schedule the most qualified and interested candidates for interviews. What's more, TalentFilter and Resumate provide you with analytics to help plan future talent sourcing initiatives.

● results

What can TalentFilter and Resumate do for you?

- Bring the right online candidates—from job boards, search engines, social networking sites, blogs, university and government sites, and more—quicker than your fingertips ever could
- Search free and paid sites as well as your TAS
- Provide resumes in a consistent summary template along with the full document
- Use analytics to measure results as well as plan future talent sourcing initiatives based on job board performance
- A simple annual subscription saves time and sanity; adding efficiency
- Deliver a branded eCard campaign for automated CRM
- Screen and contact top ten resume matches

Need to save more time? Alstin can do the sourcing for you!

The web is teeming with talent, and too often, short on the smart technology needed to reel it in. With Resumate, you can get more of the 'net's gems, bringing only those with the qualifications you're seeking along for the ride. If a single, web-based product sounds better than your current web wandering process, let Alstin unite you with the Strategies, Communications and Results to separate the best from the rest.

 alstin in action.

The power of done.[®]

You already know about TalentFilter. Its easy-to-use, “all in one” platform for sourcing, searching and resume data management is excellent for pinpointing professionals with targeted skill sets. Now, with the addition of Resumate, Alstin Communications gives you a product with “next step” sourcing technology.

With our Resumate service, our trained Sourcing Specialists will rank the best candidate matches for your career opportunity and automatically send out a fully customized eCard promoting your specific career opportunity to the top 20% of sourced resumes. Our Sourcing Specialists then report on the top ten (10) resumes that specifically match your qualifications profile, verify their qualifications, and perform a phone screen to determine interest and availability. Armed with these tightly screened pre-qualified leads, you’re ready to start scheduling interviews in less time—and with better matches—than ever before.

The power of done.®